Not Willing to Stay.

Under date of March 15, my son writes: "Yesterday a telegram came to our camp for the captain to ask the men how many were willing to stay for six months longer and receive travel pay of 200 each at the end of that time, and there was only one man among us all that was willing to stay." I stated in my second letter to the president that my son was not willing to be detained any longer. It received no notices. Under a recent date, my son says;

any longer. It received no notice.
Under a recent date, my son says;
"It is pouring down rain. We have been wading the river with our clothes on, and are all soaked to the skin. We are without shelter, but there is no alternative but to roll up in our drenched blankets and get what rest we can, having to hold our noses, we are so close—a foot and a half away—to the half-buried Filipinos." Another of late date says: "If right ruled, instead of might, the reason being so plain and urgent, I could easily obtain my release."

the Rescue Home are endeavoring to send Mrs. Charley Hoy to San Francisco.

"I want the $365 which I left with my wife before I went to San Francisco," said Hoy yesterday afternoon. "I don't want her. If she does not love me any more I don't want her to come back to me. If she likes Wing Dun better than me I don't want her, but I don't want him to have her.

"I want to say this to the ladies at the Rescue Home: If my wife wants to become a good Christian, why does she have to go to San Francisco? If she wants to be a Christian, let her stay at the Home and I will pay her expenses. I will pay anything reasonable and any week that I fail to pay she can be sent to San Francisco. I don't ask that she live with me or that I see her. Just let her stay there and become a Christian and I will pay the expenses.
